TOHN K. MACKEY, ALIAS SCHLES-SINGER

Charged With Robbing Dentists.

Unable to give $2,000 bond, fixed by Judge Kimball, who held him for the grand jury on three charges of housebreaking, John K. Mackey, alias Schles-singer, member of a theatrical company which ended a week's engagement here last night, was committed to jail yesterday afternoon. He spent the night in a cell in jail and was not allowed to see His wife Leshea Schlessinger, who was arrested with the actor on picion of being implicated in the three cases, 's enjoying liberty on $500 bond, which was furnished on Friday night. She visited Police Headquarters last release on bond. Mrs. Schlessinger's attorney says he expects to have the g man out by Monday afternoon.

Schlessinger, who played the part of a olice inspector on the stage, is said to have admitted that he broke into three dentists' offices in this city. He denies emphatically that his wife had anything from the back of the coin. to do with the affair. Novel Point of Law Saves His Case From Review in Higher

The now famous case of the Countess O'Reilly de Buena Vista against Major General John R. Brooke, came before the District Court for the southern district of New York a few days ago in a rather interesting way, and a final decision in the defendant's favor prac-

Counsel for the countess had waived a jury trial and Judge Holt in January decided that General Brooke, gov-ernor of Cuba, was not liable to her for abolishing her slaughter house monopoly in Havana. Her counsel agreed that a jury could not be waived in the district, but only in the circuit

Counsel for General Brooke, Assistant Attorney General Charles W. Russell, admitted that the statutes about walving jury concerned only the district court, but relief upon a practice outside of the statutes.

Judge Holt has just decided that the decision in Brooke's favor must stand, and the interesting point is that no appeal can be taken on the merits of the case because the facts were found by the court and not by a jury.

DOLLARAND EIGHT CENTS PER CAPITA NAVY COST

If the cost of maintaining the Amer ican navy should be divided equally among the citizens of the United States, each person would have to pay the sum of $1.08 annually.

The German admiralty is devoting considerable attention to the per capita cost of maintaining its navy. In consideration of the question, it has ob-tained the cost of a number of the more important nations of the world, for comparative purposes. It was found that the per capita cost in Great Britain is the per capita cost in Great Britain is $4.08, the highest of all—in fact, higher than any other three nations. In France, the cost is $1.56, while the United States, with $1.08, is third. Germany is fourth, at 90 cents, while in Russia the cost is but 56 cents for each citizen. The relatively small cost of maintaining the German navy is urged by the admiralty as one of the strongest arguments for a continuous increase in the imperial fleet.
